12/20/00 R00-02-005 Order Instituting Rulemaking on the Commission's own motion into reciprocal compensation for telephone traffic transmitted to internet services providers modems.

Summary: On December 20, 2000, Martin Scheel, President of the California ISP Association, Inc., sent a letter (attached to the notice) to Cmmr. Wood. A copy of the letter was also sent to Jonathan Lakritz, advisor to Cmmr. Wood. In the letter, Scheel explained that the record in this proceeding has not revealed an accurate means to identify traffic bound to Internet Service Providers ("ISPs") or traffic bound for the Internet. Scheel noted that any attempt to segregate and discriminate against ISP-bound traffic would likely meet with resistance from ISPs. Scheel also explained that eliminating reciprocal compensation could have adverse impacts on ISPs in California.

Summary: On December 18, 2000, Andrew Ulmer, Counsel for the California ISP Association, Inc., had a telephone conversation with Lynne McGhee, advisor to Cmmr. Duque. Regarding the Alternate Proposed Decision of Cmmr. Neeper and Cmmr. Duque, Ulmer stated the Alternate Proposed Decision was procedurally defective because it was not issued simultaneously with the Proposed Decision of the principal hearing officer in accordance with California Public Utilities Code § 1701.3.

Summary: On December 18, 2000, Rose Johnson, Government Affairs Vice President, AT&T Communications of California, Inc., met with Trina Horner, advisor to Cmmr. Lynch, in San Francisco. A written material (attached to the notice) was used. Johnson explained why the delayed issuance of the Alternate Proposed Decision of Cmmr. Neeper and Cmmr. Duque violated Public Utilities Code Section 1701.3 and also explained that this violation was further reason for the Commission to delay action on the Alternate Decision.

12/22/00 R00-02-005 Order Instituting Rulemaking on the Commission's own motion into reciprocal compensation for telephone traffic transmitted to internet services providers modems.

Summary: On December 19, 2000, Bob Kargoll, Regulatory Director of AT&T Communications of California, Inc., had a telephone conversation with Trina Horner, advisor to Cmmr. Lynch. Kargoll explained why the delayed issuance of the Alternate Proposed Decision of Cmmr. Neepner and Cmmr. Duque violated Public Utilities Code Section 1701.3. Kargoll also explained why the Commission should await action by the Federal Communications Commission on the matter of reciprocal compensation before it approves a decision in this proceeding.

Summary: On December 19, 2000, James L. Lewis, Sr. Vice President of WorldCom, Inc. ("WorldCom"), sent written materials (attached to the notice) to Lester Wong, advisor to Cmmr. Bilas. The written materials consist of a letter and its attachments. Lewis expressed support of the ALJ's Proposed Decision and reported that Internet Service Providers ("ISPs") are concerned that if reciprocal compensation for ISP traffic were eliminated, this would financially damage the ISP industry, particularly in the rural areas of the state. Lewis included a study conducted by the University of California. Lewis also explained that the prices Pacific Bell Telephone Company and Verizon California, Inc. charge for providing the switching function in their networks is excessive, and has served to retard the growth of local competition for residential customers. Lewis also included a presentation that WorldCom has recently given the Federal Communications Commission which explains why reciprocal compensation is superior to mandatory "bill and keep."
